Sixth Graders to Have Opportunity to Participate in Health Education Program

Parents May View Teaching Materials Monday Evening, Nov. 26 in Telstar Library

Following approval by the S. A. D. #44 Board of Directors on Monday evening of the sixth grade health education curriculum, Middle School sixth graders will be given the opportunity to participate in a seven week health education course taught by Middle School teacher Peter Brown. The course is scheduled to begin on Nov. 28. Because of the rotation of classes, some students will not be able to take the course until the third or fourth quarter, but it will be available to all sixth graders at some time during the school year.

The topics to be covered in the course include: Illness and Chronic Disease, Substance Use and Abuse, Personality and Emotional Health, and Family Life. The teaching materials to be used will be available for parents to preview on Monday evening, Nov. 26, from 7 to 8:30 p. m. in the Telstar Library. Parents of sixth graders are encouraged to personally evaluate the materials and to discuss the course with their children. Mary Ann O'Connor, Health Education Coordinator, and Mr. Brown will be present to answer any questions. Parents who are unable to attend, but wish to discuss the program should contact Mrs. O'Connor at 824-2582 and she will arrange to meet with them at another time. Students who are not enrolled in the health education course will be scheduled for their regular study hall during that time.

Students in the Woodstock and Andover sixth grades are already receiving health education as a part of their curriculum and plans are underway to discuss offering the course at those schools.

From the Bethel Town Office

This week, with the Thanksgiving Holiday, the Town Office will be closed Thursday, Nov. 22, Thanksgiving Day, and Friday, Nov. 23. The landfill will be closed Thanksgiving Day, but will be open regular hours 10 a. m. - 4 p. m. Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 24 and 25.

The Board of Selectmen met Monday evening, Nov. 19, at the Bethel Savings Bank and acted on a variety of items. Dana Douglass, Jr., chairman of the Planning Board met with the Selectmen to discuss activities for 1980 and the need for staff help to assist them accomplish the proposed activities. The Planning Board feels that a part-time person working 10 hours per week could adequately assist them with research and record keeping tasks. The Selectmen directed the Manager to look into securing help through the CETA program prior to budget discussions for 1980. The proposed assistance will be discussed again when the Planning Board and Selectmen meet in December or early January.

The Selectmen reviewed the proposed third year timber sale agreement with Malcolm Gross for cutting at the Town Farm lot adjacent to the landfill. The Manager was directed to submit the proposed agreement to Mr. Gross for his review in order that formal action could be taken at a December meeting.

George Allen CETA research assistant, was present to review an informational article regarding clarification of street names. He indicated that a list of proposed names has been given to the Fire Department and the Ambulance Service for comments. The Selectmen made a few corrections in the proposed article.

After discussion, the Board directed the Manager to work out an electrical service charge at the airport so those leasing land will be billed for the electricity used. The Board also discussed various methods of support to the fire department and ambulance service from neighboring towns who call upon Bethel for services.

Northwest Bethel

Clarice Gibson, Corres.

Sunday was one of those rare fall days we sometimes get in November. In the morning I would keep looking out to watch the sun shining on the river. With the water and sun, I could keep seeing a succession of sparkling roadways cut across the river. The sky overhead was a deep shade of blue, and even the temperature cooperated. Frank and I rode down to my folks for dinner. While we were there my brother, Danny and wife, Shirli, from Canton, drove into the yard with my brother, John, from California. John had flown up from Boston and Dan and Shirli had driven down early that morning to pick him up. When we got home and were walking into the house the sky was showing off with its too many-to-count stars.

Debbie Seames was hostess to a stitchery party at her home, Nov. 10. Those attending were Dawn Brackett, Sid Murphy, Roberta Morin and Joyce Stearns. Lilian Conant was demonstrator.

Veterans Day week end Robert Saunders came home and he and Ira went to see Mr. and Mrs. Billy Shimamura.

Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Seames and two children will be going Sunday for a Thanksgiving at his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Seames, Locke Mills.

Randy Gilbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Gilbert and Scott Gilbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Randall Gilbert, have come back, after spending several months in Colorado.

David Mason got a 7 point 170 lb. buck and James Monahan got a buck that weighed over 200.

Carole and Melinda Mason, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mason Jr., spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Harmon and daughter Sherry, at Hiram.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Richards had Saturday dinner at Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mason Jr.'s with her daughter, Brenda McGurn.

Lee and Terry Blake of Augusta were in Bethel for the week end and spent the time with his mother, Betty Blake, and her family, the Charles Masons.

I hummed a ride with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shimamura, Thursday night to Tolstar Open House. Here we picked up the rank cards and had a chance to talk to the teachers. As I walked along the corridors, I was thinking this would be my last year after going 22 years.

Tuesday night Pat Saunders had a jewelry party and I walked up. Others there were Thelma Merrill, Gerry Shimamura, Pat Anderson, Mrs. Brooks Morton, Charlene Bachelder and Mrs. Eleanor Morgan. Forgotten the demonstrators name but they live on the same street I lived when in West Paris.

Judy Coolidge is still tutoring Stanley Moore Jr. He had to be operated on again and have the ends of two more fingers taken off. This makes the ends of three fingers on his right hand he has lost not quite to the first joint. Cards and visits would still be appreciated.

Heidi Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Moore, had her 7th birthday Nov. 11. The Moore family went to the Chicken Coop in Mexico Saturday. Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Angevine came for supper, cake and ice cream. On Nov. 12 she went to her aunt (Heidi) adopted her for aunt) Doris Hutchins and had supper with cake and ice cream after.

Sid Murphy will be going into the Maine Medical for tests the 26th of this month.

Tim Angevine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Angevine, is still home with pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Angevine, Ricky, Sherri, Kristy and Tim, had a Thanksgiving supper at their home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Holt of Berlin, N. H., and Mr. and Mrs. John McMichael of West Milan, N. H., were Sunday afternoon visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Angevine. For Sunday supper they had Mrs. Sue Morris and Edward and Helen Holt from Berlin, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Angevine called on his sister, Agnes DeBlois, in Shelburne, N. H., Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Butters took Leslie Lapham to a doctor in Lewiston, Friday, Nov. 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Butters went to Shelburne, N. H., Sunday to pick up Chester Hayes. The three then went to Coos County Nursing Home in Stewartstown, N. H., to visit Mrs. Ethel Elliot. They had their dinner in Errol, N. H.

Vince and Nick Chapman, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chapman, are both sick at their home.

John Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Carter, East Bethel, visited Vince Chapman, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gibbs and Heather went to Blue Hill the week end of Nov. 9 to visit Tom's grandmother, Mrs. Hinkley.

Scott Bills, of Waterford, is the young man who has bought the Wilson place. He intends to move in this coming week end and has already started shingling the house.

Wondered why I couldn't get Sylvia Benson when I called Monday. Monday night Frank was good enough to call and say that he had taken Sylvia to the Norway Hospital that morning. She will remain for tests.

Ira went over Sunday to help Mr. and Mrs. George Guinness. They lived in the Wilson place last winter. Ira found no one home and found out in school Monday that they were the parents of a baby boy on Sunday.

Mrs. Lester Butters went to the monthly Senior Citizens dinner at the Odd Fellows Hall on Wednesday, Nov. 14.

Thanks be to God for the gift of life. For shining courage to conquer strife. For loyal friends, that are ever true. Dear souls who Faith, Hope and love renew. Thanks be to God for the place called, "Home". For memories sweet where'er we roam. For books, music and good work done. For the chance to help some needy one. Thanks be to God for the U.S.A. And all it means to the world today! Crowning each blessing upon life's road. We offer praise for the Christ of God!

South Woodstock

Olive Davis, Corres.

Deven Andrews and Judy Campbell attended an Andrews' gathering held at Mary Ellen Andrews' apartment at Bethel, Sunday. This was a combination of Thanksgiving and Christmas party as some of the family will be going to Florida before long.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks and Olive Davis were at Waterford Grange Monday night where they attended their Past Masters meeting. During the program pictures of 1979 were shown which were very interesting.

Olive Davis left Thursday morning to join Oxford members of the Grange in a tour to Lancaster, Pa., where they will attend National Grange. They are traveling by bus from Auburn.

The Rawleigh man, Burton Emery, was in this neighborhood Wednesday, making his rounds.

Mrs. Don Mason is improving. She is still in California but hopes, if the doctor is willing, to fly home this week end. Don Mason has joined her at Don Jr.'s, and will fly back with her.

Dr. Albert Ring of Vermont called to see Russell and Eva Yates on Thursday. He has been coming to Ketchum to his camp to hunt for several years but said known. Not one of his crowd saw a this was the worst he had ever go to Dr. Scott Masters at Lewiston for her new lens and also to Dr. Sokol. Asthma is expensive business.

I don't know who is dining out on Thanksgiving day as I haven't been out except to see Joe. I will eat with him.

A belated Thanksgiving wish to everyone. Have a happy holiday and shoot a deer if you can see one.

Safety Committee Urges New Braking Technique

Maine Highway Safety Committee Chairman Lee Allen urges drivers of vehicles with disc brakes—even if on one set of wheels—to change their braking habits to the new safer "squeeze technique" for greater winter driving security.

"The new technique, developed by the National Safety Council's Winter Driving Workshops, lessens the possibility of wheel lockup and subsequent skidding," she said. She suggests an easy, steady pressure on the brake pedal, followed by an easy, slight let-up of pressure. The process is repeated until the vehicle stops.

Disc brakes' physical reaction of hydraulic pressure with the calliper requires a longer recovery time if the pedal is repeatedly and quickly jabbed. This jabbing could accidentally cause a wheel lock and a skid.

"We urge drivers with disc brakes to practice on a dry, safe stretch until they are expert at it," she said. Mrs. Allen added that quick light pumping is still recommended for old-style drum brakes. For persons unsure of their brake type, she advises asking at a service station or checking the car owner's manual.

deer and he says there seems to be a scarcity of life in the woods—no rabbits—no squirrels and very few birds, hardly a chickadee. We have feed out but no birds of any kind yet.

A phone call from Tom Yates Sunday night tells us he had a good time hunting. The first day he was out he saw 12 different deer. At that place there are far too many deer for the territory but you don't see any buck deer. Only does and fawns. Reminds you of a lot of men—they send mother and the kids out to face the music while they lay low in the bush and chew their cud.

A tour of Sunday River Ski Area on Sunday afternoon, was a surprise to see how many people were spending Sunday at those beautiful camps in the woods.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of George F. Learned who passed away November 27, 1976

After the winter comes the Spring To show us again that in every thing There's always renewal divinely planned. Flawlessly perfect, the work of God's Hand And just like the seasons that come and go When the flowers of Spring lay buried in snow, God sends to the heart in its winter of sadness

A springtime awakening of new hope and gladness, And loved ones who sleep in a season of death

Will, too, be awakened by God's life-giving breath

Maine Highway Safety Committee Chairman Lee Allen urges drivers of vehicles with disc brakes—even if only on one set of wheels—to change their braking habits to the new safer "squeeze technique" for greater winter driving security.

"The new technique, developed by the National Safety Council's Winter Driving Workshops, lessens the possibility of wheel lockup and subsequent skidding," she said. She suggests an easy, steady pressure on the brake pedal, followed by an easy, slight let-up of pressure. The process is repeated until the vehicle stops.

Disc brakes' physical reaction of hydraulic pressure with the calliper requires a longer recovery time if the pedal is repeatedly and quickly jabbed. This jabbing could accidentally cause a wheel lock and a skid.

"We urge drivers with disc brakes to practice on a dry, safe stretch until they are expert at it," she said. Mrs. Allen added that quick light pumping is still recommended for old-style drum brakes. For persons unsure of their brake type, she advises asking at a service station or checking the car owner's manual.

W. M. I. M. C. HELD NOVEMBER
MEETING LAST WEEK AT PARIS

The November meeting of the Western Maine Industrial Management Club was held on Tuesday, Nov. 13, at Positively Maine Street in South Paris. An excellent turnout of 75 individuals representing 20 member companies attended. A most interesting program of three panel members discussing "Termination" was presented. Don Stecher, Plant Manager of Andover Wood Products and Duane Gilbert, Assistant Plant Manager of Elco Wood Products presented their company policies, philosophies and procedures. Robert Fomerleau, Unemployment Compensation Field Supervisor, completed the panel, and explained the position that his department must take in such situations. He emphasized the need for employers to fully document the circumstances, clearly explain the situation, and be agreeable to having capable representation at any hearings in order to best protect their own interests and those of the employment fund in general. An informative question and answer period followed. The December meeting will be held Monday, Dec. 10, at Tatone's Restaurant in Mexico.

ADULT EDUCATION IS HAVING

With many of the regular fall term classes coming to conclusion, SAD 44 Adult and Community Education Program will be offering a new concept in adult learning experiences: the One-Shot Take-A-Break class. On Monday, Dec. 3, Flo Baker will lead a 3-hour session on Douch Christmas Ornaments, from 6:30 - 9:30 at Telstar. Students in the class will have the opportunity to make some ornaments utilizing this traditional folk art technique, as well as to enjoy a friendly break from the hectic pre-Christmas season. Registrations will be taken by phone through the Adult and Community Education Office at Telstar, 824-2136. A small charge will be made for supplies, payable at the class. In case of a storm on Dec. 3, the class will be held on Dec. 5. Later in December, there will be additional One-Shot classes, with details to be announced soon.

The exhibit of Adult Education materials will be at the Bethel Library, during the two weeks following Thanksgiving.

The Foods Lab class held its final meeting on Nov. 15, with a pot-luck banquet at the home of Barbara Brown. It was apparent from the discussions that many class members have been trying out new techniques and recipes from the class sessions and in the opinion of this witness, food processors will lead the list of Christmas gifts among this group of Bethel residents.

The Natural History class, taught by Don Feeney, is planning a field trip for Nov. 25, to study first hand local applications of their classroom studies. The week end field trip was successfully used by the students in the Adult Education Architecture class this fall as well.

SENATOR WILLIAM COHEN
From Washington

Our water and air have suffered decades of assault from the wastes of a manmade industrial environment. Often, the traces of chemicals and their effects are disguised by the complex interplay of nature's forces or are hidden in the bodies of birds and animals, or man himself. Slowly, as science comes to understand better the natural cycles of the planet, environmental damage is discovered and its causes mitigated or eradicated.

Today, industrial society confronts one of the most widespread and dangerous violations of the environment. The rain that falls to earth has been poisoned by microscopic drops of nitric and sulfuric acids emitted from industrial smokestacks. Perhaps the most basic cycle of nature—the evaporation of water and its inevitable return to earth, lakes and seas—has been infected by our hand.

This newly identified environmental threat is known as "acid rain." Recently, it was the topic of a scientific forum attended by the foremost scientists in the United States and Canada. Little is presently known about remedies for the poisoned rain; even less about methods to rehabilitate the cycle.

So, last week the Senate appropriated funds for a long term study of the danger in the hope that our universities and research centers can return fresh rains to the clouds above. I co-sponsored the legislation, not only because Maine is severely affected by acid rain fall, but because these modern "rainmakers" face the task of saving the environment of all of North America. The threat is that immense.

Farmers and week end gardeners treat their soil every spring with fertilizer that has a basic acidity or alkalinity in order to give the soil the best "ph" factor for the crops. The scale runs from 0 to 14, a measurement of 7 being neutral. Above 7 is increasingly alkaline and below 7 increasingly acidic.

Biologists have now identified acid rain with a pH lower than 5.6, the average pH of normal rainfall. The rains with the lower pH act to reduce the pH of lakes and streams, as well as the soil. In North America, during the last ten years when the number of power plants, ore smelters and automobiles has multiplied, streams and lakes have suffered pH measurements as low as 2.8, which is incapable of supporting fish and water plants.

Acid rain originates when the nitric and sulfuric fumes billow into the air and drift for thousands of miles on the wind until rain or snow brings the poisonous molecules back to earth. Maine's acidic rainfalls may come from as far away as Detroit or central Canada. Together, the United States and Canada discharge 50 million tons of sulfuric and nitric wastes into the air every year.

The results have been devastating.

It is estimated that 50,000 lakes in northern New York and Canada have been acidified to the point that the fish population has declined dramatically or been destroyed. Maine has one of the most acidic environments in the country, measuring at most 4 on the pH scale. The effects of acid rain are most harmful in rockbedded lakes, like many of Maine's.

Perhaps you have looked down into an icy, crystal clear lake and thought how pure it was. In fact it may be transparent because no life is able to live there.

In order to prevent the problem from worsening, many years of research will be required. The legislation that passed the Senate will establish a program relying on the resources and skills of universities all over the country. The University of Maine, already at work identifying the extent of acidified lakes in the state, will be called upon to broaden its study in the coming years.

The urgency of the program is real. By the end of the 1980's, acid rainfall could be responsible for the widespread sterility of thousands of lakes in North America, declining forest and crop productivity, erosion of marble and limestone buildings, a build-up of lead and other metals in our drinking water and hazards to health not yet understood or even isolated.

With the cooperation of the U. S. and Canada, the combined skills of hundreds of scientists and the continued interest of our citizens, the rains may once again be fresh.

WINTER RESORT BROCHURE COMPLETED

The second edition of the Bethel area's winter brochure on lodgings and restaurants is being put into circulation by the Chamber of Commerce after printing by Citizen Printers Inc. This brochure is prepared for primary distribution to information centers in Maine, Boston, New York, Michigan and California and for local distribution by members who are part of the tourist industry. Copies are available in Prim's Rexall Pharmacy and the Bethel Town Office for residents wishing to send them to relatives and friends.

Production of this brochure was completely member supported; it contains 21 listings and advertisements, although the entire business membership of the chamber was invited to participate. Inclusion of retail shops, services and attractions are seen as broadening this brochure's attractiveness and utility.

The 1980 spring and fall edition will be prepared in about three months for an early spring printing and distribution.

According to sailplane enthusiasts, soaring conditions were excellent in the Bethel area last Sunday and two planes were at the airport to take advantage of the fine weather. Greg Randall's two-place sailplane, with Craig Paul instructing, soared to more than 10,000 feet over Bethel on five separate one hour flights, with students at the controls. Dr. Ken Hamilton of Oxford, whose sailplane is equipped with oxygen, reached an altitude of 14,500 feet and stayed aloft over two hours on a single flight in the Bethel to Gorham, N. H., area. The sailplanes will be back at the airport for the long week end, Friday through Sunday, Nov. 23-25, weather permitting.

BETHEL ROAD NAMES

and one in West Bethel. It is proposed to name the road off the Northwest Bethel Road "Gibson Road." That in West Bethel would retain the name "Ferry Road."

There are presently two Cross Roads and one Cross Street in town. "Cross Street" will retain its name, but the Sunday River Cross Road would be named "Martin's Lane," after a one-time resident, and the South Bethel Cross Road would be called "Bloody Street," as it is known already to many people in the town.

Several roads in town that used to be continuous are presently town roads only in separated parts, the remainder of the original road having been abandoned or discontinued. The Chase Road in South Bethel is now in two parts. The stretch running between Route 26 and the Chase Farm will retain the name "Chase Road," but the northern portion, which forms the cross bar of a T with Chandler Hill Road as its base, would be named "Waterspout Mountain Road" since it once led north to Waterspout Mountain.

The Bird Hill Road, running out from Locke Mills, has a separated portion that runs down the back of the hill to the south, entering Woodstock to emerge on the Gore Road. This portion of the road would be named "McGrillis Brook Road," after a water-course in the vicinity.

The longest road in town presently is known by several names: Middle Intervale Road, East Bethel Road, Rumford Road, and River Road. It is proposed to name it Intervale Road, as it touches or skirts the Intervale along large portions of its length from Bethel Village to the Rumford town line.

Two major roads in town run between settlements in Bethel and Locke Mills. It is proposed that the road between Bean's Corner in East Bethel and Locke Mills be named "Locke Mills Road." The length of Route 26 between Bethel Village and the Greenwood line would be named "Walker's Mills Road," after the district in South Bethel where factories have long been located along the Alder River.

Route 2 runs through the town to the west and north of Bethel Village. Rather than call that portion of the road "Main Street," Mrs. Maurice Bouchard is recuperating at her home, having been a pneumonia patient at Stephens Memorial Hospital, Norway, for several days.

tion between the overpass and the Gilead line West Bethel Road, which could be confused with the Northwest Bethel Road, it is proposed to call it "Allen's Station Road," after the name of the former West Bethel railroad station. The entire length of the portion of Route 2 between the overpass and the Newry town line would be named "Bridge Street."

The "Old Route Two" would be retained for that road running between the west slope of Robinson Hill and the Ferry Road in West Bethel Village.

A short road running off the Grover Hill Road toward the Barth residence would be named "Brown Road," after its builder, True Brown. A short private road near the town, off the Grover Hill Road, would be named "Cobblestone Road, reviving a traditional name for it.

A possible confusion between Chapman Hill Road and Chapman Brook Road suggests the usefulness of calling the latter "Reservoir Road," since it leads to the reservoir of the Bethel Water District.

A short stretch of town-maintained road in the Steam Mill area, leading to the residence of Harold Carver, would be named "Carver Road."

A possible confusion between Billings Road in East Bethel and Skillings Road, off the Songo Pond Road, prompts the revival of "Adams Road" as a name for the present Billings Road. "Skillings Road" retains its present name. Nearby, "Beach Road" would be the name given to the short stretch of road running along the shoreline of Songo Pond off the Songo Pond Road.

It is anticipated that when street names are established, and when street numbers have been applied to every street, so that each structure in town has its own street number, a map showing all of this information will be prepared and placed in the Bethel Fire Station for use by the town's emergency services. Copies will also be made available for public inspection so that a general knowledge of the uniform system of identifying places in town will become widely diffused. Signs with street names will also be erected throughout the town so that clear guidance as to locations in town will be provided to all. There are a number of private roads in the town with no name at present. Suggestions for names for these have been solicited from their owners.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE THANKSGIVING DAY SERVICE AT BERLIN, N. H., NOV. 22

It's getting harder and harder to find things to be grateful for this Thanksgiving—at least if you start by counting your blessings in terms of material comforts. But traditionally in hard times, a nation begins to look within to its moral and spiritual resources. And it's then that a reawakened sense of God begins to enrich people's lives with the realization that there are many spiritual blessings one can be grateful for.

These blessings that a good God gives freely to all who seek Him will be stressed at the Thanksgiving service to be held at First Church of Christ Scientist in Berlin, N. H., on Thanksgiving Day. The community is invited to attend. The service will begin at 11 a. m. Child care will be provided for small children and no collection will be taken.

The service will feature selections from the Bible and Scripture and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy chosen especially for the occasion to remind us of the abundant goodness and healing power of God that is available to all. The service will also include hymns of Thanksgiving and the President's Thanksgiving Proclamation. Time is also set aside for quiet prayer and for expressions of gratitude by members of the congregation.

Mrs. Irma H. Thompson, First Reader, and Mrs. Evelyn M. Cross, Second Reader, will conduct the service. An organ solo, Prayer of Thanksgiving, a folk song, will be played by David D. Thompson, organist. The service will last an hour and the church is located at the corner of Main and Tenth Streets, Berlin, N. H.

MOTORISTS SHOULD INSIST ON THOROUGH VEHICLE INSPECTION

The Maine State Police advise motorists to make sure when they take their motor vehicle to be inspected that it is done thoroughly for their own safety.

"Motorists who by law are supposed to have their vehicles inspected by a State licensed motor vehicle inspection station should make sure that the items required by law to be inspected are indeed inspected," said Col. Allan H. Weeks, Chief of the Maine State Police.

State Police Traffic Safety officers are making a maximum effort in cooperation with licensed station owners and certified mechanics to make sure motor vehicles are inspected as required, Col. Weeks said.

"Owners of vehicles should realize that the three-dollar fee charged for the motor vehicle inspection does not cover the cost of any needed replacement materials or additional labor," said Col. Weeks.

The Maine motor vehicle inspection includes: brakes (including the emergency); steering mechanism and suspension system (including tires and wheels); exhaust system; lights (including head, tail, directional and rear plate lights, rear reflector and headlight aim), with a possible additional charge if the headlight aim has to be adjusted; rust (especially frame rust, along with body rust and protruding metal edges); and mirrors, horn, window glass and seat belts.

WALKING WITH JESUS CHRIST

My Secret Pal—the person who has drawn my name and will send me cards, and newsletters—after a year will reveal himself to me. That will be a happy surprise if I haven't guessed who it is.

Imagine the joy when a child of God has revealed to him—in heaven, his secret pal—his guardian angel! The one who God sent to care for our many needs—to watch over us, perhaps all our lifetime—even from when we were in our mother's womb.

No imagination needed here to believe for God tells us in Hebrews 13:2—"for thereby some have entertained angels." How about the time we fed a stranger, or some one spoke to us in the market—perhaps kept the car from going over the road—maybe even helped us fix a flat tire? Could be.

There are tens of thousands of angels—Christ could have called legions of them at his crucifixion on that bloody cross of shame—where he gave himself for you and me.

Angels have great strength—we read in I Kings 19:35 where only one angel slew 185,000 soldiers that threatened God's people. They are an order of created spiritual beings, Hebrews 1:4—having inconceivable power—their place is at the throne of God, Rev. 5:11 and the angels are spirits—power has been given to them to become visible in the semblance of human form and seen or unseen they minister to our physical safety and well being—largely to those who shall be heirs of salvation. Since the Bible tells us we have

TELSTAR ALUMNI ASSOCIATION MEETS AGAIN

The newly established Telstar Alumni Association met at Telstar Regional High School on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 14. The group discussed plans for the initial mailing to alumni from all classes, identified at least one alumni coordinator from each graduating class, and developed a form letter to send to Telstar alumni.

The Alumni Association plans to mail its letters out within a week, so that Telstar graduates returning home for Christmas will have an opportunity to complete a brief questionnaire at the bottom of each letter. The Alumni Association plans to use the responses from its initial letter to recruit more members and to get information together for the initial alumni news letter.

In attendance at the second meeting of the Telstar Alumni Association were Nancy Bailey Young, Christine Greenleaf, Danna Brown Nickerson, Linda Carver

Albany HUNT'S CORNER AND VICINITY

Kathy Bennett, Correspondent

Here it is the Monday before Thanksgiving and I imagine everyone is busy with the many preparations necessary for the holidays. Hearts are filled with joy with the thoughts of getting together with family and friends to share the many thoughts and blessings of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert McAllister called on Mr. and Mrs. Louie Cox one day last week.

Dennis Wilson called on the McAllister's one day last week.

Roger and Yvette Barton and children, Frank Barton Sr., and Arthur Seavey were recent visitors at the Barton Farm.

Sunday Margaret went to Fryeburg to visit her mother, Mrs. B. Grimmer.

A large bull moose called on the Wardwell's and the Fred Scribner's last week. He didn't stop long and had little to say!

Other callers at the home of Fred and Lib were their sons, Dale and David Scribner and Myron and Florence Intell.

I want to remind all Albany residents of the family Christmas gathering at the Albany Church on Dec. 14, at 6 o'clock. There will be a pot luck supper, each family is to bring a casserole, and a place setting for each family member. There will be gifts for the children so if you have youngsters through the age of 12 please, call Jean Reynolds at 824-2533 if they are going to attend. Please join us so that we can all become better acquainted.

If you know someone in the area whom you think might be interested and doesn't get the paper please pass this information on to them.

The beets and turnips are in the cellar at K-D's Acres! Our garden is finally all harvested and we celebrated with a big boiled dinner on Sunday. Now my thoughts turn to baking pies and rolls for the Thanksgiving dinner we will attend.

Callers here last week were June Inman, Brian and Michelle, Polly and Paul McAllister and my aunt and uncle Kay and Roydon Billings Friday night.

Margaret Barton and I went grocery shopping in Norway and Sunday we called on the folks at Hillcrest Farm.

All of us here at K-D's Acres wish all of you the happiest Thanksgiving ever. God Bless you!

SALT II—Part One

The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations has finished its work on the SALT II Treaty, and Senate debate will start shortly after Thanksgiving. As a member of the Committee, I voted to send SALT II to the full Senate for debate. And I will vote for ratification. As a preview of the Senate debate, I want to discuss reasons why I believe the debate critical to our foreign relations and our own national security.

The nuclear arms race is more than three decades old. Each side has more than enough nuclear weapons to destroy each other. Each side is spending many billions of dollars to make its weapons even more deadly.

SALT II will not stop these developments, but it will slow them down. It will make them less costly. And more importantly, SALT II attacks a fundamental notion which has propelled the arms race—that we will be safe only if our nuclear weapons are superior, greater in number, better in quality and more accurate. SALT II attempts, for the first time, to make the nuclear arsenals of both the superpowers roughly equal in size and deadliness.

The treaty allows the United States to build the forces our experts say we need to maintain this equality. The treaty enhances our ability to monitor what the Soviet Union is doing. And, most importantly, because it is a step toward more effective control of nuclear weapons in the future, this treaty makes war less likely.

The Soviet Union is building new weapons at a rapid rate. SALT II will slow them down. The Soviet Union will have to destroy or dismantle some 250 nuclear weapons.

SALT II will not block any of the weapons we now plan to build. With or without the treaty, we must modernize and strengthen our own strategic forces. But SALT II makes that task easier and less expensive.

For example, if SALT II is not ratified, we would certainly be forced to spend billions more in making our weapons safe from the destructive force of their weapons. They would respond with new weapons and so on down the same road we have followed in the past.

We can build the MX—a missile we can move regularly so the Soviets will never be certain of its location. Our missiles will thus be safer from attack. And SALT II imposes no limits on our armies, allowing us to continue our efforts to build up and modernize NATO forces.

So SALT II puts a cap on the nuclear weapons which directly threaten our homelands. Will it enhance our security? My conclusion after long hours of careful study is yes.

First, the treaty imposes equal limits on the total number of bombers, missiles and warheads for both the United States and the Soviet Union. This means that, although there may be other differences, this part of the competition—the numbers game—has been eliminated.

Second, the development and technological improvement of new missiles is restricted.

Third, the treaty prohibits deliberate interference with the steps we take to verify Soviet compliance. It prohibits concealment measures so we can be more certain of what the Soviets are doing than we would be otherwise. The same restraints apply to us.

Fourth, the Soviets have given up their option to develop the SS-16, a large new mobile missile so advanced that our experts say its production would have forced a new round of improvements on us.

Fifth, the treaty leaves the United States free to continue to improve our strategic weapons.

Sixth, by limiting the total number of Soviet warheads, SALT II allows us a degree of certainty about the destructive ability of the Soviet arsenal. We can protect our own new weapons more easily.

SALT II is a more modest step than we would like it to be in the direction of arms reduction. But it is a solid step.

"DOING BUSINESS IN MAINE" DISCUSSED BY CHAMBER

Facilitating the process of starting or expanding business in Maine is one of the responsibilities of Maine's State Development Office its Deputy Director, Barbara Cottrell told a small chamber of commerce gathering at The Bethel Inn on Friday evening. Cottrell indicated that during Governor Brennan's administration her office has shifted its focus to respond to this Governor's goal of improving business quality in Maine so that efforts are aimed at existing Maine firms rather than devoting most of the office's efforts to recruiting new industry into the state.

The State Development Office can assist existing businesses and prospective new owners in a number of ways according to Cottrell but the three items of apparent highest interest to the Bethel group were the availability of a comprehensive book titled "Doing Business in Maine", plans to operate a toll free "business assistance" telephone service beginning in January 1980 from the State Development Office and the availability of computer data on business variables such as population, income groups and current business statistics from the State Planning Office.

European markets and exporting Maine products in general are seen as an increasingly valuable source of new customers. The declining values of the dollar relative to European currencies tends to make Maine products and the tourist and recreation attractions of the state more attractive than in previous years according to Cottrell. She pointed out that Maine was already the world's largest exporter of sardines. On Friday, before coming to Bethel, the speaker had attended a ceremony in Searport marking the first time in 100 years that Maine lumber, in this case 3 1/2 million board feet destined for England, had been shipped abroad from a Maine port. And joint ventures between Mainers and Netherlands investors are seen as part of a growing interest in the eyes of the Holland business community—a fact that was highlighted during Governor Brennan's trip to Amsterdam in October—according to Cottrell.

Conant, Kenneth Cooper, Ralph Sawyer.

Community E—Clarence J. Bailey, Lester Bailey, Charles Haegele, Stanley Haynes, Roger Richardson, Willard Wight.

The ASC committee election will be conducted by mail from Nov. 23 until Dec. 3. Eligible ASC voters will receive a secret ballot in the mail with instructions on how to vote for candidates of their choice and return the ballot to the county ASC office. Participation in ASC elections is open to all farmers regardless of race, religion, sex, color or national origin.

continued from Page One highway department operations for the winter months. Included was having Main Street snow removal done during evening or early morning hours, the cut back of plowing activities between 10 p. m. and 5 a. m., and the hiring of part-time personnel for plowing. After discussion, the Board approved the Manager's recommendations.

The Town Manager reviewed with the Selectmen a letter he received from the Rumford Community Hospital thanking the town for their support in obtaining funding for an area health needs study. The letter indicated the study was funded by the Farmers Home Administration and that it is now in its initial stages and that area people will be contacted as part of the study.

George Allen reviewed with the Board the requirements for securing funds from the State and Federal Government to assist in purchasing land for recreational purposes. Additional recreational facilities were expressed as a need in the citizen survey done by the Planning Board. The Selectmen directed the Manager to ask the Recreation Board to assist in putting together more information on this matter.

The Board of Assessors will meet Monday evening, Nov. 26, and the meeting with DuBois and King on the sludge site study was postponed until Nov. 29 as some of the board members would be unable to attend the originally set Nov. 20 meeting.

The Town Manager informed the Board that the State Bureau of Alcoholic Beverages would be holding a public hearing on Wednesday morning, Nov. 21, at the meeting room of the Bethel Savings Bank to consider a renewal of a part-time, spirituous, and vinous liquor license for Douglass Scott d/b/a the Sudbury Inn. The hearing is as a result of the Board of Selectmen recommending that the renewal not be approved.

At the end of the meeting the Board entered a short executive session to discuss a personnel matter.
